

RESULTS RX

To appreciate how Results Rx works, you should have a basic understanding of the chiral correction and the other technological breakthroughs that make it so unique. The challenge for all topical skin care products is to penetrate the protective top layers of the skin, get to the correct receptors in the dermis, and activate them to create healthy cells and new collagen without irritation. That's the goal. Most skin care products stay on the surface of the skin making them useless because their molecules are too big to enter the skin.

To infiltrate the skin's formidable barrier, Results Rx uses Fullersomes, a Nobel Prize-Winning transport vehicle. If your background is in nanotechnology, you know all about Fullersomes. If not, let's just say that they are very, very small and can fit between the skin's cells while carrying active ingredients.

Most molecules have two parts to them- one part that spins left and one part that spins right. These are called dimers, and like mittens, they are not interchangeable. Receptors in the skin are shaped so they benefit from either a left OR a right dimer. The dimer the skin can't use causes irritation which then limits the amount of active ingredients the skin can tolerate. When an ingredient is chiral, the unwanted dimer is completely removed at the molecular level, so the skin gets only what it can use.

You can tell when any ingredient is chirally corrected by the prefix in front of the ingredient. Look for an "L" for the left dimer and either an "R" or a "D" for the right dimer. For example, you'll see lactic acid listed as an active ingredient in most skin care products. With Results Rx, you'll see L-lactic acid which contains only the chirally corrected left dimer the skin can use.

EYE DOCTOR

We have never had a skin care product that inspires as much passion from our patients and staff as Results Rx Eye Doctor. So what exactly is Eye Doctor? It is a liquid crystal eye serum that plumps damaged, thinning skin around the eyes. The ultimate combination of AGP Complex (retinol) and cococin growth factors stimulate collagen and elastin formation to reduce the appearance of fine lines, wrinkles, dark circles and aging changes. The addition of copper complex provides potent strengthening power for the delicate eye tissue. Like other Results Rx products, with Eye Doctor less is more. The tiniest, smallest amount you can pump is what you use, and one bottle should last you at least six months. So enjoy the benefits of youthful looking skin with Eye Doctor and please feel free to contact us on 9747-2518 for any further information about the entire Results Rx skin care range of products.
